Bio

Will Thompson knows that loyalty, trust, hard work, and attention to detail are the cornerstones of providing lasting, client-centered service. Will relentlessly prepares cases and develops defense strategies that aggressively combat the reptilian tactics used by plaintiffs' lawyers, while keeping his clients' interests at the forefront of everything he does.

Will concentrates his practice in the areas of medical malpractice, trucking litigation, product liability, municipal/governmental litigation, and appellate litigation. He represents the interests of his clients in state and federal courts across the Southeast. His depth of experience in rapid response and accident investigation, combined with his understanding of the law, makes him the ideal partner clients want in their corner. Will advocates for his clients by tackling each unique case and challenge with a creative defense perspective to position cases for dispositive motions and trial.

Will graduated from the Cumberland School of Law in 2017, and has spent his entire career at Huie. While in law school, Will was a member of the American Journal of Trial Advocacy, the nation's oldest law review dedicated to trial advocacy. He has published articles relating to the role of trial courts under Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharmaceuticals, multiemployer liability, and amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Will is also active in the Alabama and Birmingham Bar Associations. He currently serves as a member of the Birmingham Legal Aid Society's Board of Trustees, and is a member of the James Edwin Horton Inn of Court.

Outside of work, Will enjoys competitive golf, traveling, fishing, cooking, and spending time with family. Will is a member of Trinity United Methodist Church in Homewood. Will earned his B.S. in Political Science from Troy University and his J.D. from the Cumberland School of Law at Samford University.
