Bio

Raised in a household where education and hard work were revered, Owen's passion for justice was ignited at a young age. As Owen embarked on his academic journey, he found his calling while pursuing his undergraduate degree. Enrolling in classes related to civil rights and criminal defense, he discovered an innate joy and fulfillment in advocating for those who needed it the most.

Prior to joining Huie, Owen served as an attorney at a boutique civil defense firm in Birmingham, where he handled matters involving medical malpractice, trucking and motor vehicle accidents, and construction defects. Creativity is the pinnacle of his work ethic as he offers case-specific solutions that are catered for each of his clients. He goes above and beyond at the office and at home and uses his gifts of passion and persuasion to better the lives of those around him.

Owen received his Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and American Studies from the University of Alabama and earned his J.D. from Cumberland School of Law at Samford University, graduating cum laude . While in law school, Owen was actively involved with Cumberland's nationally recognized trial advocacy program and was an Articles Editor for the American Journal of Trial Advocacy, the nation's oldest law review dedicated to the advancement of trial advocacy. He also served as a Cumberland School of Law Ambassador, offering guidance and support to prospective law students during their decision-making journey to attend law school.

Outside of the office, Owen enjoys spending time with his wife and their dog, Gunner, as well as watching Alabama football.
