Bio

Jacob Powell has always been motivated by the opportunity to serve others through advocacy. As a first-generation attorney, he was drawn to the legal profession by the chance to make a meaningful difference in people's lives during some of their most challenging moments.

Jacob focuses his practice in the areas of medical malpractice and insurance defense, and he values the ability to provide a steady, reassuring presence for clients navigating unfamiliar legal issues. He is driven by the opportunity to advocate for something greater than himself. Today, he brings a compassionate, collaborative approach to his practice, combining problem-solving with a commitment to exceptional client service.

During law school, Jacob earned recognition as an Outstanding Advocate at the 2024 Battle of the Experts Trial Competition, served as Managing Editor of the American Journal of Trial Advocacy, and competed in numerous national trial advocacy competitions. Following graduation, he completed a judicial clerkship with Chief Justice Sarah Stewart of the Alabama Supreme Court and now serves as a coach for Cumberland's trial advocacy team.

Outside the office, Jacob enjoys playing pickleball, attending church, traveling on the weekends, and spending time with his friends and girlfriend.

A native of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, Jacob earned his BA and MA in Communication Studies from The University of Alabama and his JD from Cumberland School of Law at Samford University.
